

THE WHITE HOUSE

CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN

"The Store of Service"

Silk Hose Sale

For Friday

$1.50 Values at 95c

TOMORROW we will offer an exceptional value in Silk Hose. There are only 10 dozen in this special lot and by tomorrow evening not a single pair should be left. These Hose come in black and all colors. Some have lisle garter tops. These are not "seconds" or "factory mended," but pure silk hose fresh from the factory. These are regular $1.50 hose. Friday Hose sale at—

95c per pair

QUESTIONS JOHNSON ABOUT WHITE GIRL

Negro Pupil Admits Girl Was Employed by Him, But Refuses to Say Where She Is Now.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—Jack Johnson, the negro champion pugilist, was questioned for more than two hours by the police today as to the whereabouts of Lucile Cameron, a 19-year-old white girl whose mother, Mrs. P. Cameron, a wealthy widow of Minneapolis, had asked the police to find Johnson admitted that Lucile had been employed in his first street cafe as cashier, but declined to tell where she is now, though said he knew her address. He pleaded that Miss Cameron was anxious to avoid further publicity because of the recent suicide of his wife, Miss Cameron, he said, had been a companion to his wife.

"Is it true that you have the young woman in hiding?" asked police captain Noot Barr.

"There is no foundation for such a story," the pugilist shouted.

NEW BRIDGE WILL BE BUILT AT BELEN

Belen, N. M., Oct. 17.—A new bridge will be built across the Rio Grande at this point, it is believed, to take the place of the one which was destroyed early in the spring by the high waters in the river. The wooden structure, which formerly spanned the river, was almost entirely destroyed this year, and on account of the large amount of country which is cut off by the lack of the bridge, the need of a new structure is imperative.

MAXEY INSTRUCTS FOR DEFENDANTS

Under instruction of Judge T. S. Maxey the jury in the federal court returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of E. L. Charpentier, Robert McDonald and D. J. Mahoney Wednesday afternoon.

JURY NOW BEING CHOSEN FOR PETERS

The work of selecting a jury for the trial of Mike Peters, a negro, charged with the killing of Buck Wells, another negro, was begun Thursday morning. This special venire of 60 men which had been summoned was exhausted by noon with only seven jurors chosen. Judge Dan M. Jackson, presiding in the 34th district court, issued an order for an additional 50 men, ordering 25 for two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

About Alcohol? Go To Your Doctor

A Strong Tonic - Without Alcohol A Great Alternative - Without Alcohol A Blood Purifier - Without Alcohol A Family Medicine - Without Alcohol

Ask your doctor if a family medicine, like Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is not vastly better without alcohol than with it.

LEVY GROCERY COMPANY

Just Received a Carload of Levy's Best Tomatoes

Strictly hand packed goods—No. 2 cans, 3 for 25c; 24 cans, $1.90 No. 3 cans 2 for 25c; 24 cans, $2.70 No. 4 cans 4 for 25c; 24 cans, $4.50

Remember that every can is guaranteed and packed exclusively for us. Bell Phones 505, 3098. 204-206 E. Overland St. LARGEST RETAIL AND WHOLESALE HOUSE IN EL PASO.

The Most Brilliant Lot Investment Ever Offered in El Paso

and without doubt the most ideal conception of a home place in the southwest. All this and more is offered you in

Government Hill

This suburb is without a peer anywhere for scenic beauty. High class improvements, healthful climatic conditions, accessibility, nearness to the schools and churches. Absolutely no pioneering; all improvements have been made, including pure mesa water, electricity telephones and superior car service. And still, prices are absurdly low, only

$150.00 and Up

Think of it—They're bound to double and treble before long. Terms are 10 Percent Down and 5 Percent a month.

No interest, no mortgage, no taxes

AUSTIN & MARR LATT & HAPPER

Phone 4350

Phone 271

AGENTS

Morgan Bldg.

ATTEMPT TO BAR WIFE'S TESTIMONY

Woman Is Put on Stand Unannounced and Becker's Counsel Is Surprised.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Mrs. William Rosenberg, wife of "Lefty" Louis, one of the four gangsters charged with shooting Herman Rosenthal to death, was a witness for the state today in the trial of police lieutenant Charles Becker. The district attorney's intention to place her on the stand was unannounced and Becker's counsel made vigorous, but futile attempts to bar her testimony from the record.

Mrs. Rosenberg's testimony was corroborative of a portion of the testimony of "Bald Jack" Rose. She said that Rose had come with Sam Schepp to her home on May 13 to see "Louie" about helping to get bail for Jake Zelig, the gang leader killed the other day, who had just been arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Mrs. Rosenberg added in cross examination that she was not testifying to help her husband or with the hope of his receiving leniency. Two telephone operators, one at a public station, the other at the apartment house where Becker lived, testified that Becker received a call in the early morning hours of the day of the murder.

Becker Admitted Killing. "When this sensation blows over the public will give me a pension for killing that crook, Rosenthal."

These are the words attributed to police lieutenant Charles Becker by James D. Hallen, a fellow prisoner in the Tombs at Becker's trial, Wednesday.

Hallen was one of 15 witnesses who testified for the state. Last August, while he was an inmate of the Tombs, he had a conversation between Becker and detective White, formerly of the Becker "strong arm" squad. White had been locked up on a charge of "framing up" Jake Zelig.

"White said, 'Sit fast, Jimmy; after this is blown over they'll be giving me a pension for killing this gambler Rosenthal.'"

Under cross-examination Hallen admitted he had been twice convicted, 14 years ago for forgery, and recently for larceny.

Mr. McIntyre asked the witness if he had forged several names to Becker, mentioning the names.

"No, I never forged," began the witness.

Recognizes Former Client. "Oh, I know you," exclaimed Mr. McIntyre.

"Yes, you ought to," responded Hallen. "You were my lawyer."

"What?" exclaimed Mr. Whitman. "Was Mr. McIntyre your lawyer?"

"Yes, and I never got paid for my work for him," Mr. McIntyre replied.

"That's not so," snapped Hallen. "You were paid $500 and I got a long term in prison."

The witness said he was in a shower bath in the Tombs and Becker in another when the alleged conversation took place.

Describe the man who talked with Becker, instructed Mr. McIntyre. "I couldn't in the slightest degree," Hallen said.

ROSE SUCCEUMS TO HIS INJURIES

A. A. Rose died Wednesday at a local hospital as a result of wounds received by being stabbed at Clint, Tex., about five weeks ago. He was 42 years old. The body was shipped eastward Wednesday night.

BATTLE ON BETWEEN POSSE AND CONVICTS

Fight Is Reported to Have Lasted For More Than Hour; Two Deputies Wounded.

Steamboat Springs, Colo., Oct. 17.—A battle between convicts who escaped from the Wyoming state penitentiary at Rawlins on Sunday afternoon, and a posse of deputies, was reported to have taken place last night over the line in Colorado, eight miles south of Dixon, Wyo. The fight lasted over an hour and two deputies were wounded, according to the report here.

QUIET AT RAWLINS FOR FIRST TIME SINCE SUNDAY

Rawlins, Wyo., Oct. 17.—Quiet prevails at Rawlins for the first time since the sensational jail break of Saturday and Sunday afternoon. Extra guards patrol the corridors of the penitentiary and the prisoners are confined closely to their cells. Fugitives are gradually being rounded up at distances from 25 to 60 miles.

EXTEND GLAD HAND TO THE EL PASOANS

(Continued from page 1)

reached Globe recently, they ran from the depot to the business houses with their order books, in their hands, but the El Pasoans came to visit us as friends and left their order books at home.

An example of how the people are receiving the El Pasoans the following is taken from the first page of the Globe-Silverdale, a part of a lengthy article on the coming of the El Pasoans.

"No one should fail to meet the excursionists and give them the glad hand for they are on a worthy errand, to get better acquainted with Globe and its people. Every merchant, who has an order book in his vest, will go up there to say howdy and be asked about himself in return. The two and a half hour trip is a good one. The two and a half minutes' worth of time well spent both by the city and the excursionists."

TRADE BOOSTERS TALK WITH EL PASO FROM DOUGLAS AND HISBEE

Perfect telephone communication between the El Paso trade trippers and their homes and business houses in El Paso was established Thursday morning.

A telephone was installed in the special trade trip train at Douglas and the El Paso trade trippers and their friends in El Paso, 300 miles away, all about it. Their voices were as clear as if they were in the same room.

Under cross-examination Hallen admitted he had been twice convicted, 14 years ago for forgery, and recently for larceny.

Mr. McIntyre asked the witness if he had forged several names to Becker, mentioning the names.

"No, I never forged," began the witness.

Recognizes Former Client. "Oh, I know you," exclaimed Mr. McIntyre.

"Yes, you ought to," responded Hallen. "You were my lawyer."

"What?" exclaimed Mr. Whitman. "Was Mr. McIntyre your lawyer?"

"Yes, and I never got paid for my work for him," Mr. McIntyre replied.

"That's not so," snapped Hallen. "You were paid $500 and I got a long term in prison."

The witness said he was in a shower bath in the Tombs and Becker in another when the alleged conversation took place.

Describe the man who talked with Becker, instructed Mr. McIntyre. "I couldn't in the slightest degree," Hallen said.

ROSE SUCCEUMS TO HIS INJURIES

A. A. Rose died Wednesday at a local hospital as a result of wounds received by being stabbed at Clint, Tex., about five weeks ago. He was 42 years old. The body was shipped eastward Wednesday night.

ALFRED CROWSON.

Alfred Crowson, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Crowson, who reside at 606 Texas street, died at his parents' residence Wednesday night. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from the home. Burial took place in Evergreen.

CRUCES STREETS BEING REPAIRED

Water and Sewer Systems Installed—Much Building in Progress.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 17.—After months' delay in fixing the streets, which were torn up at the time the new water and sewerage systems were installed, the streets are now being put in good condition. Mr. James, a representative of the firm which installed the system, is here superintending the work.

At times the streets have been almost impassable after a rain. Horses would get down in the mud.

At the last session of the Don Ana county Sunday school convention, held in the Presbyterian church here, the following officers were elected: President, W. M. Adair; vice president, B. T. Link; secretary, Frank Hawley, and treasurer, Rev. Mr. Rodriguez.

Mrs. Thomas Tate, who fell a few days ago, sustaining four broken ribs, will be confined to her bed for about 10 days. Her physician thinks she sustained no internal injuries.

Residence Being Finished. The new residence of R. L. Faulkner, located on Miranda avenue, is nearing completion. It is a pebble dashed adobe.

The new house of A. Reeves will be a six room adobe, pebble dashed.

Clyde Walters and family have arrived here from Kansas City. Mr. Walters has taken a position with the reclamation party of engineer Herbert W. Yeo, now engaged in topographic work in the vicinity of Mesquite.

Mr. Walters previously was an employee of the U. S. R. S. in this vicinity. His family has temporarily located here, in the Summers property.

Church Nears Completion. The new M. E. church will soon be completed and is a handsome structure. Rev. Mr. Campbell, the pastor here during the past year, will remain here during the coming year.

Mrs. P. R. James, who has been confined to the house for two weeks on account of illness, is able to be out again.

The walls of the new two story brick building being erected on Main street, adjoining the Catholic church, will soon be completed.

Miss Letha Reeves is spending a few weeks in El Paso.

Mrs. Kelson, who has been ill at her home on Miranda avenue, is now slightly improved.

Carnival Drawn Crowd. The carnival, located on Depot street near the home of mayor Mitchell, was largely attended.

"Grandmother" Peterson is critically ill at the home of her son, M. H. Peterson, on the Alameda. She is one of the oldest women in Dona Ana county.

Some needed repairs are now being made on the El Paso state committee.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Williams.

W. D. Murray of Silver City, treasurer of the Republican state committee, was here collecting for the committee.

DOUGLAS GOLFERS TO COME SATURDAY

Lineup of El Paso's Team in Championship Game Is Selected—Committee to Meet Visitors.

El Paso is ready for the golf invasion from Douglas Saturday and Sunday. The program includes a practice play Saturday morning and the final play Saturday afternoon for a cup. Saturday afternoon will be a continuation of the medal play and also the individual play for the cup, the lowest 36 hole medal play in the state.

The individual play for the cup, the lowest 36 hole medal play in the state, will be played for possession of the silver cup. This cup is now held by Douglas.

The El Paso team as selected is: C. H. Leavelle, A. W. Hookey, J. C. Williams, P. J. Edwards, Waters Davis, Leut. Sumner, Reed Fuller, W. V. Sterling, Joseph Wright, W. M. Peacock, William Alexander, W. E. Payne, A. P. Coles, J. F. Williams, Roy Crowder, E. E. Neff, W. H. Shelton, Hugh McLean, G. W. Marshall, Geo. C. Wines.

The reception committee to meet the team from Douglas is composed of E. E. Neff, R. C. Semple and Waters Davis.

M. L. Reed, an immigration officer, with headquarters at Tucson, Ariz., was an arrival in El Paso Thursday morning. He will leave for the east Thursday night.

For Dress Occasions

WE are prepared with the largest assortment of full dress wearables displayed in El Paso. Come in and look them over.

Full Dress Suits
Tuxedos
Dress Overcoats
Donchester Dress Shirts
Collars
Ties
Gloves
Mufflers
Jewelry

geo. a. mansfield & co.

men's wear

TWEITMOE THANKS RYAN FOR "GIFTS"

Letter to Head Iron Workers' Union Identified in Dynamite Trial.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 17.—A letter written by Olaf A. Twitmo, San Francisco, to Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' union, expressing thanks for "Christmas presents" and that the lieutenants of the union explosion on Christmas day, 1916, was solicited by Twitmo at a meeting with Ryan in St. Louis after the Los Angeles time explosion.

The witness said Twitmo, as secretary of the Building Trades council of California, kept an account at the bank. The government charges that Twitmo referred to the Los Angeles explosion when he wrote "Christmas presents," and that the lieutenants of the union explosion on Christmas day, 1916, was solicited by Twitmo at a meeting with Ryan in St. Louis after the Los Angeles time explosion.

United States district attorney Charles W. Miller has telegraphed attorney general Wickham, asking the department of justice to make a rigid investigation of the reported sightings at Kansas City, Mo., of N. E. Pearce, who testified on Monday as a witness for the government in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial.

"At the beginning of the trial here, we could take no chances on tolerating any rough tactics," said Mr. Miller. "Pearce came here under subpoena from the government and neither he nor any other witness is to be molested on account of any testimony he might have given."

The district attorney's telegram asked for a "vigorous federal investigation for the purpose of determining the perpetrators of the outrage."

Pearce, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

McManis, who was a clerk in a Kansas City hotel in his testimony identified Orville McManis as having registered at the hotel August 28, 1916, as "J. W. McGraw, St. Louis." McManis, he said, had remained at the hotel three days, leaving on the day the dynamite put several charges of nitro-glycerine under portions of a bridge being constructed across the Missouri river.

JOHN CARR HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Clint, Tex., Farmer Is Arrested, Following Death of A. A. Rose, a Saloon Man of the Same Town.

John Carr, a farmer, was arrested Wednesday by deputy sheriff Jere Du Bose, charged by complaint filed that day in the court of justice of the peace James J. Murphy with murder.

Carr is alleged to have killed A. A. Rose, a saloon man of Clint, Tex., who died Wednesday in the Providence hospital here. Rose was stabbed in the stomach about five weeks ago while at his saloon at Clint, as the result of a dispute alleged to have occurred over 65 cents.

On the night he was stabbed, Rose was brought to El Paso in an automobile and placed in the local hospital, where he remained until his death.

Carr, who owns a farm near Clint, has lived in that section for the past 20 years.

AMERICAN CONSUL KILLS HIMSELF IN CANARY ISLES

Tenerife, Canary Islands, Oct. 17.—William Whitney, British United States consul at Laguna, committed suicide last night by shooting himself with a revolver. He was a sufferer from chronic heart disease.

ADS BY PHONE.

The ordinary cost of a Want Ad. in The El Paso Herald is 25 cents. It reaches an average of about 70,000 readers each issue.

Don't Persecute your Bowels

Get out catarrhs and parasites. They are bad!

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Purely vegetable. Act gently on the liver, cleanse the blood, and soothe the delicate membrane of the bowels.

Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price

Genuine Signature

Wanted

Solicitors acquainted and experienced to call on the family trade of the city in the interest of